President's Message

As we gather for our second reunion, there are many reflections of our having come together in nineteen hundred eighty-six and experienced the unity of those who have shared a common bond. I am grateful to all who have worked so diligently to make this reunion a reality. A special thanks to the committee that organized and assembled a short history book which will provide us with moments to remember.

Because of your efforts as community leaders, educators, parents and grandparents, it would be well to note that more students today are graduating from both high school and college than ever before. The census bureau recently reported that 76 percent of Americans 25 or older had completed four years of high school in 1987, the highest level in our history. Twenty percent of the same adult age group have completed at least four years of college, doubling the figure of one generation ago.

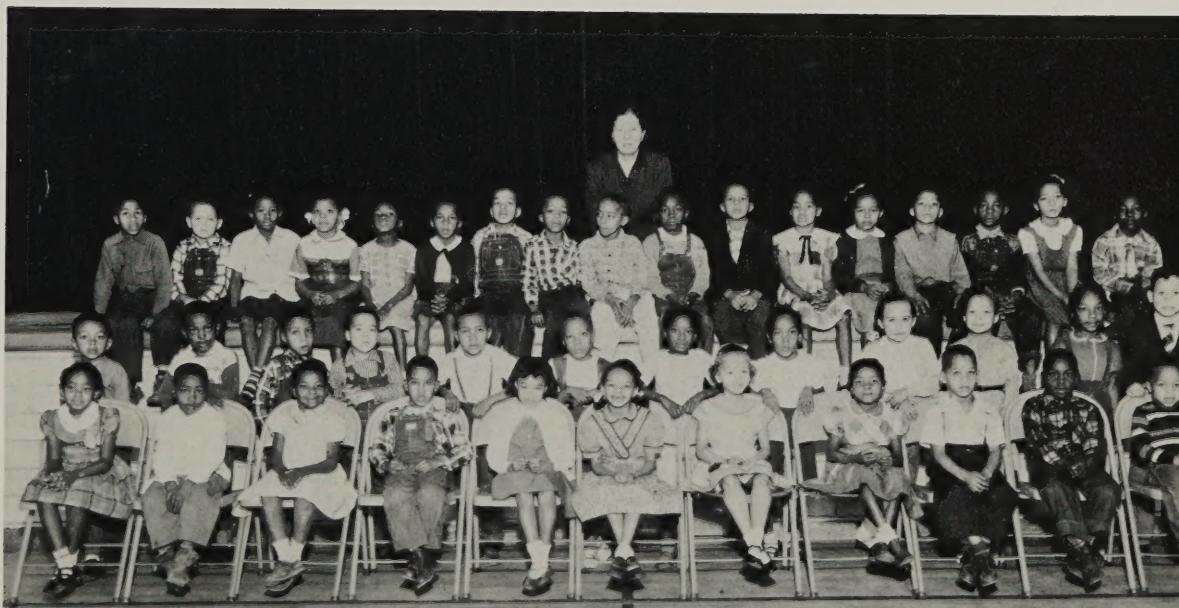

This indicates that you have been successful with these accomplishments. However, in closing, I would like to challenge each of you to serve as a catalyst in your state and community to help remove drugs which threaten our children's lives and well-being and inhibit their potential for success. Next, encourage young people to love and respect one another, stay in school, and strive to achieve worthwhile goals. We want to see our young people meet demanding challenges of the future with confidence and hope.

DEDICATION

Throughout her teaching career Laura Atkins was known as a very pleasant individuals who generated an atmosphere of simplicity, truth and honesty but the greatest of all her "LOVE OF CHILDREN".

To Laura Chisolm Atkins and "Her Children" we humbly dedicate this book.

This class represents the hundreds of children taught by Laura Atkins.

SCHOOL HISTORY

The beginning of the history of Lee M. Waid School was through a trustee board, appointed by the Pigg River Baptist Association, to study the needs for improving education and to draw up plans for their implementation. The efforts of William T. Walker, Rev. T.C. Brown, Lee M. Waid, Henry Smith, Zack Hopkins, and Mrs. Martha T. Brown, a teacher in the county, led to the purchase of additional land adjacent to the Rocky Mount School near Ball Knob. A dormitory to house students was proposed.

The Pigg River Baptist Association provided summer study for teachers at Chestnut Grove (now Holy Trinity) Baptist Church, while waiting to erect a building.

In early 1915, a twenty-room dormitory had been erected to accommodate faculty and out-of-town students. With this in mind, the school's name was changed from Rocky Mount School to Booker T. Washington Normal and Industrial Institute. The curriculum was raised to the junior high level. In time, the faculty grew as did the enrollment of pupils.

The first graduation was held in 1923. The class included Pearl Ramsey, Eddie Dickerson, Flossie Brooks, Mildred Tyree, Eliza Divers, Ella Dunnings and Elsie Snyder.

Around 1926, the Rosenwald Fund provided the financial means for the construction of a four-room building. The school board aided in erecting this building and later renamed the school Franklin County Training School. Several years later the Federal Government, under the W.P.A., built an agriculture building.

In spite of the assumption that all Negro children were receiving a public education, many were not. There was not a school in the Briar Mountain Community, and there had not been one for twenty-one years. For three or four years, Reverend Morton H. Hopkins, a Negro Baptist-Minister, made an annual request for a school in that community. Reverend Hopkins' request was granted when a bus was provided to transport the Briar Mountain children to the Franklin County Training School which housed grades one through eleven. The first bus transportation was provided by two local merchants, Lee M. Waid and Samuel "Sam" Phelps, and was driven by Kermit Waid. The bus operated from 1929 to 1937 and served part of Sontag and Sydnorsville communities. In 1938, Reverend Hopkins bought a new bus and transported students from the Snow Creek and Briar Mountain areas of the county. A few years later, Willis Board purchased a bus and transported students from Penhook and Union Hall communities. These buses were privately owned and contracted to the county. Howard Webb operated a pickup truck with a bed on the back to bring children from the Coles Creek community. Reverend Hopkins also initiated the hiring of the first Negro School Supervisor. Minnie Hopkins Watson Moorman was hired as Supervisor in September, 1929, and remained in that capacity for 30 years.

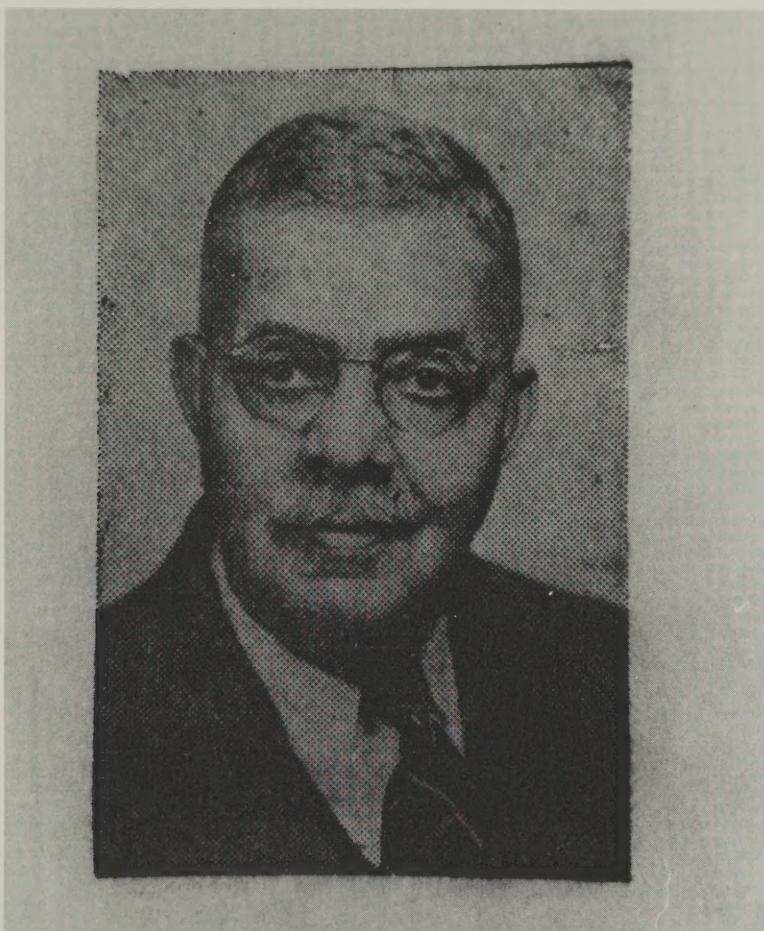

About 1948, the Franklin County School Board purchased the remaining 23 acres of land from Pigg River Baptist Association and built a new brick building. In 1952, a gymnasium and cafeteria were added. Another addition, in 1959 provided rooms for typing, art and other subjects which were not previously available. Mrs. Dora Young and other concerned parents were instrumental in helping to get some of these courses added. Yet another addition was made in 1969.

On December 1, 1957, the school was renamed Lee M. Waid. The community was jubilant as the school would bear the name of one of the prominent citizens.

In 1970, the last class with all Negro students marched across the stage to receive high school diplomas. This marked the end of an era in Negro history in Franklin County.

Today, this school houses children of all races in kindergarten through third grade.

IN MEMORY

Lee Melon Waid

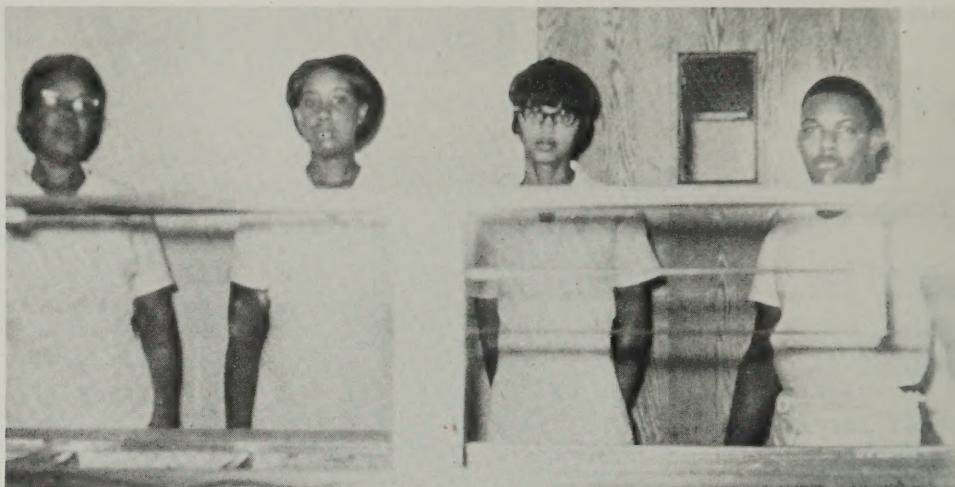

There have been numerous Blacks that have made valuable contributions to Franklin County. One such individual was Lee Melon Waid who was a businessman for many years. In April 1957, Franklin County Training School was renamed Lee M. Waid School in his honor. Also earlier, a wing of Franklin Memorial Hospital had been dedicated in his honor.

Although Mr. Waid had only a grade school education and no children, his vision and determination extended far. He always encouraged people to strive for improvement. Mr. Waid was a diligent worker in local organizations that fostered black education, especially the Pigg River Baptist Association.

THROUGH THE YEARS

Fannie M. Tyree

Mrs. Tyree devoted nearly 4 decades to teaching in Franklin County Schools. Two years were at the Booker T. Washington Normal and Industrial Institute.

When she retired in 1963 she stated "I always loved children. I loved every day that I spent with them. Now I look back and say, those were beautiful days to remember."

UNITED STATES MARINE CORPS

In the name of the President of the United States, the Commanding General, 1st Marine Division (REINF) FMF, takes pleasure in awarding the Silver Star Medal to HOSPITALMAN WILLIAM C.

WOODS
UNITED STATES NAVY

CITATION:

"For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity in action against the enemy while serving with a Marine infantry company in Korea on 2 December 1952. Serving as a corpsman, assigned the mission of assisting and evacuating wounded Marines, Hospitalman Woods displayed outstanding courage, initiative and devotion to duty. When one of his comrades was seriously wounded and lying in an exposed position, he unhesitatingly advanced up the steep slope in the face of intense enemy mortar, machine gun and small arms fire to treat his wounds and evacuate him to friendly lines. During this evacuation, he noticed another Marine casualty lying in hostile territory. Expressing complete disregard for his personal safety, he immediately went to the man's rescue and when he found it was impossible to move him alone, he summoned another Marine. As they dragged the casualty across a rice paddy, a distance of approximately two hundred and fifty yards under constant and devastating enemy mortar and machine gun fire, Hospitalman Woods lost one of his thermo boots. Although suffering frostbite as a result of the extreme cold, he continued with his mission until he was evacuated. Hospitalman Woods' gallantry and courageous actions served as an inspiration to all who observed him and were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

SCHOOL SONG

Dear Lee Waid School
Pledge thee on to victory
Ring out thy colors
Of old blue, and gold
We have come from far and nigh
For we all just love thee so
The winter months so long and cold
The days seem slow.

Lee M. Waid
Dear Lee M. Waid
We love thy name so dear
Through ages and ages
It will remain the same.

Cornerstone Is Laid at Lee M. Waid Addition

Waid pupils were urged by Rev. M. H. Hopkins that opportunities the school offers at cornerstone ceremony Wednesday for the $200,000 addition.

Rev.

Rev. Hopkins also reminded pupils of the early sacrifices made by early residents of Franklin county that led up to the cornerstone laying.

The event was attended by all students at the school and school officials such as H. W. Ramsey, superintendent of county schools; Douglas Reeves, president of the Student Participation association; Mrs. Mamie A. Holland, oldest teacher in point of service at the school; Sandra Jones, soloist; and the school choir directed by Mrs. Frances L. Keen.

C. L. Atkins, principal of the school, was master of ceremonies. Before the cornerstone was cemented into place, Atkins read the following list of the contents of a box that was placed inside the stone.

Photographs of the late Lee M. Waid, in whose honor the school is named; photographs of H. W. Ramsey, superintendent; Mrs. Minnie M. German, supervisor; and Mrs. Mamie Holland, teach-

THE SCENT OF THE ROSES

Let Fate do her worst; there are relics of joy
Bright dreams of the past, which she cannot destroy;
Which come in the night-time of sorrow and care,
And bring back the features that joy used to wear.
Long, Long be my heart with such memories filled,
Like the vase in which roses have once been distilled —
You may break, you may shatter the vase if you will,
But the scent of the roses will hang round it still.
